

The Ark for Sale in Lymington

We are an independent Café and Christian Bookshop in this well-loved and well-reputed Georgian town on the south coast. Nestled between the New Forest and the Solent, Lymington is a 'mecca' for sailing in the U.K.

In 2003 I had the vision to make this place a Christian presence in the High Street, where people could come and know they would always find a friendly face and be welcome - to show God's love in action.

Our Café is widely used by both the local community and visitors to Lymington and we have built up a great reputation for excellent food, home-made cakes, coffee, and service second to none. Our bookshop serves local churches and schools as well as offering a welcoming place for anyone to browse and ask advice.

I would like to retire later this year and hand over the ownership of The Ark to someone who feels the call to continue and develop this work. Would you or anyone you may know be interested in putting their capital and energy into this important ministry and outreach?
